OXFORD, Miss. - Amidst the University of Mississippi's recent homecoming activities, the Ole Miss Alumni Association announced its officers for 2009-10.

Charles

Clark is the organization's new president, a one-year term that changes each homecoming. Clark, who earned his Bachelor of Business Administration in Accountancy from UM in 1972, is a managing member at Clark Capital LLC in Birmingham, Ala.

"I am both honored and humbled to serve as your new president," Clark said. "With so many great things happening in all areas at Ole Miss, I cannot think of a more exciting time to be granted this privilege."

While at

Ole Miss, Clark served as president of both Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and the business school student body.

"Charles Clark and his wife, Ginger, will be great leaders for our university," said Rose Jackson Flenorl, the alumni association's immediate past president. "Charles has worked for many years supporting Ole Miss. He will take our association to new heights."

Besides

serving as alumni association president, Clark serves on the professional advisory board for the School of Accountancy.

William T.

May was selected as the association's president-elect. May is an attorney and partner with Bourdeaux and Jones in Meridian. Richard Noble of Indianola was elected vice president. Sam Lane of Jackson and Karen Lee of Greenville are new members of the athletics committee.
